

Core Needs Navigator™

Unlocking Your Path to Career Fulfillment

Want to feel energized and fulfilled by your career?

Looking to unlock the secrets of your personal path to success? Thinking about your career next steps or about exploring something different? Wondering what will bring greater inspiration and motivation in your work?

The Core Needs Navigator™ gives you the tools and knowledge that will allow you to feel fulfilled, productive, effective and satisfied in your work. You uncover your Core Needs and examine how they are working in your present work life and how they may be best attained moving forward.

The Core Needs Navigator™ enables you to design creative solutions, discuss your role with your current or prospective manager and assess your fit with the team or organization of which you are a part (or will be). You build the confidence to choose the right options for you and make the best decisions about your future steps and career path. With your work aligned with your Core Needs and personal patterns of success, you accelerate your impact as a high-performing professional. You'll leave this session with clarity about your needs, key tools and resources to pursue your path and a clear, tangible action plan for next steps.
